

Liturgical Colors

Priests wear different colors according to the liturgical season we're at.

Israel loved Joseph best of all his sons, for he was the child of his old age; and he had made him a long ornamented tunic. - Genesis 37:3 (NABRE)

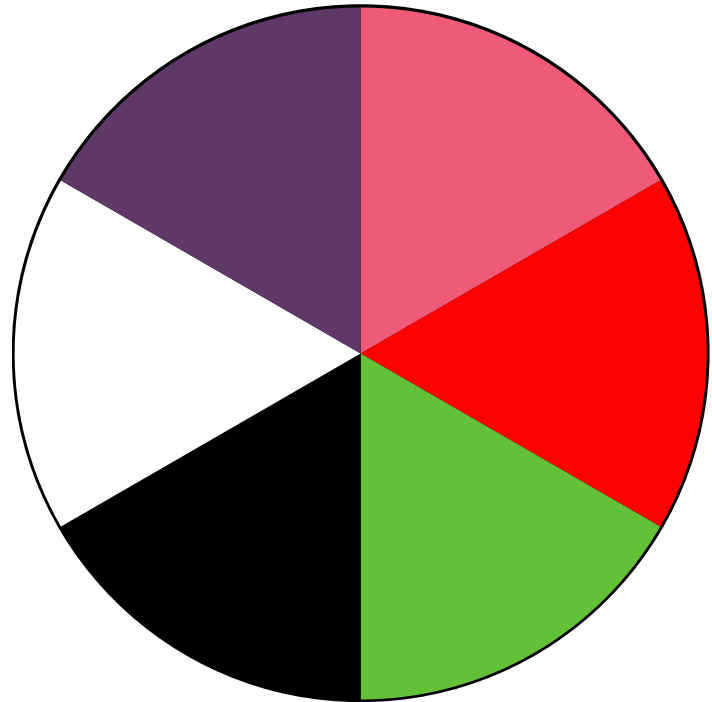

Choose the Color

Priests and deacons will wear different colors during the varied liturgical seasons, but also for special Masses. Write the event or season in it's proper place on the color wheel. Take your best guess for events based on what colors make the most sense. Some have multiple options.

Did You Know?

Before the 4th century, priests wore only white vestments. The liturgical colors were introduced shortly thereafter. Each color is meant to signify a mystical meaning. Rose is the color used least often (only 2 days per year).

Reflection Questions

Pause to reflect on the Church.

What is your favorite season of the liturgical year? What color is used? What do you like about that season?

Think about your favorite Mass of the year and what the priest is wearing / how the church is decorated. What emotions do these adornments and colors bring up in you?

Response of Thanksgiving

Use your reflections to guide a prayer to the Lord.

Take a moment to offer thanks to God for his Bride, the Church. Her liturgical traditions add so much beauty to our life of faith. Talk to the Lord about the parts of his Church that are most wonderful to you. He loves to hear nice things about his beloved.

Guided Imaginative Prayer

Follow the prompt to enter into imaginative prayer with God.

Imagine you are sitting in the pews at your home parish. You are kneeling to prepare your heart and mind for Mass when you notice something is off... You look around and see that the church is in black and white. The world looks dull and you can't tell what time of year it is. You look to the statues and decorations in the church to help you get to a prayerful state, but everything feels lifeless. You close your eyes for a few moments, opening them at the sound of the entrance hymn. When you open your eyes, color has returned and seem brighter than ever!

Notice how this stirs you.
